

Geriatric Care Management Professionals

(Also Known as Aging Life Care Professionals)

Geriatric Care Managers, who may be certified by the Aging Life Care Association (ALCA), are health and human service professionals who assist older adults, as well as their families and caregivers, in providing person-centered assistance and guidance, assessments, planning, problem solving, education and coaching. They can help with options for housing, home care, financial difficulties, socialization, legal referrals, and much more. Some may also be qualified to assist with medical care coordination and advocacy.

Geriatric Care Managers/Aging Life Care Professionals may be certified by the Aging Life Care Association (ALCA), National Association of Professional Geriatric Care Managers (NAPGCM), Commission for Case Manager Certification (CCMC), or the National Association of Social Workers (NASW). They may provide services through an organization accredited by the Council on Accreditation (COA), or may be uncertified.

Home care agencies may also offer similar care management and support (see Eldersource listing of Home Health Care Agencies)
